

IT'S YEARBOOK TIME!

NAI TIGER TALE

2018

Dear Parent,

My very first computer was a Texas Instruments TI-99. I can't recall the amount of memory or processor speed, but I do know that I didn't keep it long. It quickly became obsolete.

Now, do you know where your high school yearbook is? I still have mine. It contains memories that could never be contained in a computer. I'm glad I still have it. And, I don't need Wi-Fi to access it.

We live in a very 'instant gratification' society today. Status updates. Downloads. It's all now. However, will those still be the norm 15 years from now?

Please don't let your son or daughter leave NAI without a Yearbook. Pictures and memories will be captured for all to have and cherish forever. I firmly believe that this is a solid investment...more than my TI-99 was.

Thank you!
Mr. Geibel
