

KINDERGARTEN RESOURCE SHEET PARENT GUIDE

The attached resource sheet lists the consonant sounds the children will be taught during the rest of the year. The words can be used to play games, review, and/or reinforce what your child is learning in the classroom. Activities are intended to be fun and stress free for both child and adult! They can be as creative as you make them. Possible materials you can use include: letter cards, dice, and old gameboards with markers to move.

Start with letters and sounds for the first 4 letters: S -M -R -A. Add 1 letter per week. We caution you to use what we refer to as the "pure sound" when saying the sound. For example, you and your child want to say "ssss" (not suh), "mmm" (not muh), etc.

The basic purpose of this sheet is to provide an opportunity for you to reinforce what is being taught in the classroom and to give your child more confidence. The best procedure is to have your child to first tell the beginning sound of the word you tell him/her. Next, the child should identify the letter that says that sound. Keep in mind that the sounds are introduced one per week with some gaps in the schedule if the teacher is not introducing one during a particular week. Keep track of the Alphafriends your child has met. (Sammy Seal, Mimi Mouse, Regie Rooster, Tiggy Tiger etc.)

The duration of this activity should be between five and ten minutes. If there is resistance or frustration from the child you may need to decrease the number of letters and sounds you are working with or decrease the time allotment.
